MINING REVIEW .- To-day we gather the data for our regular weekly mining review. Any reliable information in reand to the mines will receive proper stention, if left at our publication office, Main street.

M. F. TARPEY, holder of ticket 123, which drew the $75 prize in the "Ladies" Fair," has generously donated that amount to the Church fund.

By telegraph we learn that the stage left Hamilton at 11 o'clock a. m. yester-day, with only one passenger—a Mr. Crowley.

Coxsting was the order of the day yesterday among the "boys," large and small, and much sport was the result. THE stage from Hamilton arrived about 9 o'clock last night.

THE RAYMOND & ELY VS. THE KENTUCKY MINING COMPANY. Judge Beatty's Decision.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW: The locators of the Panaca did acquire the right to that portion of the vein em-braced within the monuments which they placed upon the ground in March and June 1864.

I regard the original setting of the stakes in March, and their readjustment by accurate measurement in June, as one act in legal effect. The notices placed upon those stakes on March 17th, 1864, claimed the ground from a point sight ommon.

And if there is a question whether the upon those stakes on March 17th, 1864, claimed the ground from a point eight claimed the ground from a point eight hundred feet northward of discovery point to the end of claim No. 12, southward of the discovery claim. In she absence of any law providing for a different method of proceeding, these acts in connection with the work done at the same time and previously, constituted a valid location of so much of the vein in whatever direction it might subsequently be found to run. The fact that this location of the mining district and the adoption of the mining laws under which it was subsequently recorded, is no impeachment of the validity of that record. It is usually and very naturally the case that some locations are made before the organization of a new mining district and the adoption of mining regulations. It is only after such locations of the widely of the record of locations are made before the organization of a new mining district and the adoption. The old locations are made before the organization of a new mining district and the adoption. The old locations are made before the organization of a new mining district and the adoption. The old locations are made before the organization of a new mining district and the adoption of mining regulations. It is only after such locations of low discoveries are found to be worth preserving that laws are adopted to secure their preservation. The old locations, as in this case, are principally concrened in passing the laws. If, as in this instance, the law provides for the tecord of locations, there is no reason why those made antecedent to the adoption of the laws should be abandoned or made over again. The rights of the owners of such antecedent locations would at all events date back to their original claim, and to requirement of a vain act. Even if this were not true, the original claim to the Paanca was made in contemplation of what was subsequently done. And consequently the acts done upon the ground of the consol verse right having intervened—assume their proper legal relation to each other, and be regarded as having been done in their regular order.

It is objected to the validity of the record of the Panaca claims that the notices placed on the ground were not litterally transcribed. Certainly it is the usual mode of recording mining claims to make a literal transcript of the notice. But I do not know that this can be regarded as essential. Such a reason would impart no fuller or better notice to subsequent comers than this recorded; and I. Bancroft & Co. For sale by Charles Wiederhold, Main street, Pioche. Besides the counting-house calendar, among its contents are the fasts and feasts of the church, the Hebrew calendar, distances from San Francisco, the metoric system, time table, rates of postage, eclipses for 1574, stc. It is not only very convenient, but contains a great variety of valuable information.

Presonal.—T. F. Lawler, of Pritchard's line ard's Fast Freight Line in Pioche, arrived last evening by Pritchard's line from Euroka, after an absence of over rived last evening by Pritchard's line from Eureka, after an absence of over two months. Mr. Lawler has been to Consecticut, whither he went to convey the remains of his deceased wife. The gentleman returns in excellent health, without experiencing any difficulty on the trip from the East to Nevada. He came by the Union and Central Pacific to Palisade. He left Eureka on Thursday morning, and reached Pioche last night. A "Coaster" Warched.—Night before last Dr. H. Bergstein, with other gentlemen, was coasting on Meadow Valley street, and while coming down the incline with all sails set, collided with another sled, throwing the doctor off and spraining his left knee. He is still able to get around on crutches, so that he can attend to all the wants of his patients. He expects to be all right in a few days.

New Saloon.—The "Snug" is the name adopted by Roberts & Dean, opposits Roeder's store. The Snug will be formally opened to-day, with a full stock of wines, liquors and cigars. At 11 o'clock this morning Tom and Jarry and hot lanch will be sorved. According in the plat, which in connection with the record purports to cover a linear ex-tent of only nine hundred and fifty feet. As to the mistake in the written par As to the mistake in the written part of the record, that is easily accounted for, either in the original notice placed upon the ground, or in the copy taken by Sherwood, for the purpose of record, or in transcribing that copy, the words discovery stake were used for discovery claim, by mistake. Or, perhaps, as there was a stake at each end of the discovery claim, that at the conth and might have claim, that at the south end might have been referred to in one part of the notice and that at the north end in the other part.

The mistakes in the plat are past accounting for, unless the record has been altered, more extensively than the wit-besses say since it was first made.

But it is an all sufficient answer to the objections, based upon these mistakes and discrepances, to say that the record refers to the monuments control and determine the ground, and those monuments control and determine the ground leaded as the ground. refers to the monuments on the ground, and those monuments control and determine the ground located, as long as they remain or their position can be established.

I conclude then that the location and record of the claims on the Panaca ledge mine the ground located, as long as they remain or their position can be estabrecord of the claims on the Panaca ledge covering the ground from the stake eight hundred feet north of the discovard's Fast Freight and Passenger Line claim No. 12, south of the discovery will leave the office, at 6 o'clock this claim were valid and sufficient, and that claim were valid and sufficient, and that morning for Palisade, via Eureka. We invite attention to the advertisement in another column.

There was an arrival from Salt Lake light before last, bringing Wells, Fargo & Co's express matter, but no passengers. The express was brought in by a sleigh in preference to a stage. There is still another stage or sleigh over due.

Mayon Bryter — To-day — wather the feet of the properties of the properties of the segregated or in common according for the stakes set and marked by the surveyor in June 1864, with a right to swing their several locations upon the vein, according to its true course when developed, making Sill, Gibbons, Crow and Chamberlain tenants in common at that time of eight hundred feet of what is now known as the Raymond & Ely vein, extending east of discovery point, and Hamblin, Pulsiseles to be sold. An enumeration of the advertisement of Mr. Friend.

The right to those parcels of the vein being then vested in the locators named, it could be lost in one or other of two ways only.

Second. By abandonment.

Second. By abandonment.

What were the requirements of the mining law as to work on claims?

They were all embraced in Articles 5, 7 and 12 above quoted. The most that was required was that "each company must do one faithful day's work on their claim each month, after the same shall have been located one year' subject to the penalty of torfeiture. That is to say, without any work whatever, all these claims were good until April 18, 1864.

But by the consolidation contract of July 2d, 1864, Hamblin, Sherwood, Shutt, Vandermark, and the Boxes, had formed themselves into a company for the purpose of working their claims in common. And this contract embraced by the terms and in the intention of the parties, the ground of Pulsifer, which Hamblin expected to purchase, and did actually pur-ground of Pulsifer, which Hamblin expected to purchase, and did actually purchase before the completion of the work. Whether or not their contract effectuated the full intention of the parties, and constituted them tenants in common of the thirteen hundred and fifty feet of ground described, in the proportions of their original several interests, it is not material to inquire. It certainly had the effect of making the work done in pursuance of it apply to the ground of the subscribing parties in due proportions, whether their interests are several or in common.
